Germany's Policy Toward the Socialists.

A GREAT MEETING IN BERLIN.

Beven Thousand Socialists Assemble in an Onen Meeting and Are Addressed by Herr Bebel Without Interference From the Police -Other Events Taking Pince Cver the Ocean.

LONDON, Aug 27.-The fact that 7,000 Socialists were allowed to meet openly in Berlin Monday night and that Herr Bebel was allowed to address them for two hours, is an indication of the relaxation which, under the young Emperor William and since Prince Bismarck's fall, has been made in the administration of the anti-Socialist laws. The conclusion must not be arrived at too hastily, however, that an area of perfeetly free speech has dawned upon Ger-

The fact is that a complete under standing existed in advance between Herr Behel and the police as to what the substance of his address was to be; otherwise it is impossible that the meet ing would have been allowed to take place at all. The speech, accordingly, was a very moderate one, and it is being referred to with great complaisance by the government organs as proving the wisdom and far-seeing statesmanship of the emperor, who, by a policy of leniency toward the Socialists, and of solicitude for the welfare of the working classes, has inspired even the arch Socialist Bebel to place confidence in the government's good intention.

This is a triffe exaggerated, but it is near enough to the truth to pass well with the admirers of the emperor. The meeting, after listening to Herr Bebel's address, resolved unanimously to defer referred to with great complaisance by address, resolved unanimously to defer all further meetings and all newspaper polemics until after the international Socialistic congress which meets at Halle in October.

Kicking Against Railroads.

BERNE, Aug. 27.-The railway company which is making desperate efforts to secure from the Swiss government a right of way up the famous Maltehorn, right of way up the famous Maltehorn, is meeting with an equally earnest opposition from people who regard the proposal as one of desecration, though the excuse for the railway is that it would accommodate tourists. The chief opposition to the scheme comes from that very class, who argue that the picturesqueness and healthfulness of Swiss travel would largely disappear with the advent of railways. advent of railways.

Disastrous Conflagrations.

PESTH, Aug. 27.—The fire at Tokay began during the night, and its spread was accelerated by a heavy gale of wind. All the public buildings, as well as nearly all the private dwellings were destroyed. AFFAIRS IN GUATEMALA.

Indications That Barillas' Government is About at an End.

CITY OF GUATEMALA, Aug 27.—The Barillas government has just issued a decree whereby it is ordered that all Guatemalans between the ages of 18 and 50 shall present themselves within twenty-four hours after the publication of the decree, at the different military posts in their respective departments or they will otherwise be declared traitors. In the senate the agreement to end they will otherwise be declared traitors.

This decree is causing very many peo-ple who come within its limits to leave the territory of Gautemala, and not a few are joining either the insurgents in Chiquimula or the Salvador troops conginities or the Salvador troops across the frontier.

By another decree the government has directed the secretary of the treasury to effect a forced loan of $1,000,000 to meet war expenses. The loan is to be confined to the cities of Guatemala and Operational and and the content of the cities of Guatemala and the cities of Guat Quezaltenango, and two committees of merchants have been named and ordered to produce the money within three days from the subscribers on a list furnished by the government.

There are heavy penalties attached to non-compliance with the subscription and the $1,000,000 will have to be contributed in the following ratio: Guatemala $600,000 and Quezaltenango $400,...

maia $000,000 and guezarenage $000.

With the similar object of obtaining funds for the army, and having a retroactive effect, the government has also issued the following decree:

New York Central Strikers. NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—About 5,000 persons assembled in Union square last persons assembled in Union square last night in response to the call for a meeting of sympathy with the New York Central strikers. Specches protesting against the action of the Pinkerton men at Albany and elsewhere, the action of the Brotherhood of Locomotive engineers, and of the officers of the New York Central in particular were made by Mr. T. V. Powderly, Robert Blüssert, Mr. Margaut Moore and others, and resolutions of like purport were adopted. Mr. Blüssert and Mr. Moore recited the wrongs inflicted upon the workers by capitalists, and urged workingmen not to vote for the party that workers by capitainsts, and urged workingmen not to vote for the party that supported capitainsts. It was Chauncey M. Depow's bighest ambition, Mr. Bliesert said, to be at a table with the Prince of Wales at the head. The country did not want that kind of a man for president president.

Mr. Powderly said it was announced from Terre Haute last night that the su-preme council of the Federation of Railroad Employes had endorsed the action of the knights in the present strike. There were men in other organizations who were waiting for a popular movement. He did not care. He would go on and fight until the capitalists of the country were overthrough. on and fight until the capitalists of the country were overthrown. Though the Central claimed they were moving freight they were not. If that monopoly cannot move freight the state must be called upon to compel it to surrender its charter to those who will move freight, or to the state. Yesterday he met twenty men who had been discharged. Of that number only one had been charged with any offense, and that was insurbordination in refusing to work overtime. Not one was charged with incompetency.

There is, he said, an organization of There is, he said, an organization of labor with its headquarters in Cleveland. Its chief is P. M. Arthur. [Hisses.] It contains men who will stoop to take the place of brother man. This is what the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers have done with the consent of Arthur. The brotherhood is good, but it has a bad chief. It was all arranged for Arthur to be hidden in Cleveland while Depew was in Europe. No one can get at them. The people of this land don't want a coward for president, a man who runs away when there this land don't want a coward for president, a man who runs away when there is a fight ahead. The battle is a strike of people and must be fought at the polls. The state board of arbitration are fishing in the Adirondacks instead of attending to their business and they must be made to do their duty. We have an army of hired assassins. They should be put down. should be put down. He was always opposed to strikes, he said, but they would not give in until they had gained a victory in this case.

Resolutions were adopted as follows: WHEREAS, The New York Central had WHEREAS, The New York Central had discharged scores of employes because they were Knights of Labor; that a large number of knights employed by the company had gone on atrike with the object of vindicating the rights of the workingmen to organize; that the company had persistently refused to have the causes of trouble inventions of the causes of the causes of the cause of the caus trouble investigated or arbitrated, even to the extent of snubbing the state board of arbitration and hiring a band of cut-throats to shoot down strikers; that a number of inoffensive citizens have been shot down by the hired assassins of the road: be it

It was generally reported last night that District Assembly 246 had called out every Knight of Labor in the Vanderbilt connecting lines, but the report could not be confirmed. Mr. Powderly said he was not aware of any action, though it might have been taken. if so, it had been taken after his de-parture from Albany. He had seen but two freight trains on his way down from Albany, each composed of about thirty cars, but ten of which were loaded This is an example of the "regular business" which Mr. Webb claims the company is doing. A Strike May Yet Take Place.

ALBANY, Aug. 28.—The confidence of the strikers in the result being in their favor is increased by an assertion made by Mr. Lee that he has almost positive information that the Federation that met in Terre Haute will yet order a strike. Mr. Lee said that he had reason to believe that Mr. Powderly had been privately advised that the order would strike for grievances of their own, the scheme proposed being for firemen and brakemen to refuse to work on the trains with scabs or made up by scabs.

Mr. Lee also says that when he or-dered out the knights on the Central road he only did so in certain cases. He claims that there are still 1,000 knights at work on the Central who will come out when the general call is issued.

The pay car at West Albany vester-day paid off 1,260 men, strikers was formerly worked in the shors. The question was: "Here is your pay, do you want to return?" If no answer was given in the affirmative the man was discharged. Not one of the 1,200 accepted the offer to be taken wacs.

THE NEW YORK BRICK BOYCOTT Both Sides Stand Firm-Likely to Throw

Out 50,000 Men. NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—The brick-makers boycott is beginning to be a serious matter, as each side shows no signs of yielding. The executive committee of the Brick Manufacturers association met at the Astor house Monday. Seven manufacturers who were not in the fight before sent in their names, while those already enrolled showed no sign of retreating. The seventeen men who comprise the committee are representative men of the industry, and personally supply nearly 65 per cent. of the trick sent to New York city. The committee passed the following resolution:

In view of the statement made by some that we (the brick manufacturers) have united in an effort to wise the name.

This declaration is of the utmost importance, as it was charged by the board of walking delegates that the manufacturers had boycotted this city and Brooklym not becomes they had suffered pose to supply the market with all the

The number of men who will be thrown out of work, should the boycott thrown out of work, should the boycott last three weeks, will probably reach 80,000, including carpenters, brick-layers, tinners, roofers, plumbers, glaziers, gas fixture experts, furnace and range supplies, iron workers, stonemasons, carvers, architects, frescoers, plasterers, lathers, casters, longshoremen, bad carriers, and more recovery. hod carriers and mortar-makers, em ployes engaged in manufacturing brick, bargemen and crews for handling brick, outside the city, and men who depend on the labor of these employes already mentioned to support their trades, such as house furnishers, decorators and others.

There are now over 1,000 buildings in the city in course of erection, and it is said on good authority that $350,000 a week would not be an exaggerated estimate of the amount of money paid in wages on these buildings. Already the effect of the expected tightening of money among the laborers is being felt. The board of walking delegates also held a meeting Sunday, and, encouraged by the support of the brick builders' union, determined to fight the matter out to a finish.

LABOR TROUBLE IN CHICAGO. The Railroad Strike at the Stock Tards

Still On. CHICAGO, Aug. 27.-The railroad strike at the stock yards is no nearer a settlement than it was last Friday when the firemen and engineers left their lothe firemen and engineers left their lecomotives. An effort was made by the contending interests yesterday afternoon to patch up a true that would result in reopening the railways to the packers, but it proved unsuccessful. A committee representing the striking switchmen waited on the executive committee of the Switching association that was in session, and made a verbal demand for an increase of two cents an hour, and at the same time explained
why the demand was made.
The conference did not last long. The

why the demand was made.

The conference did not last long. The members of the committee refused to listen to the demand, but said they would restore the old order of things if the men would resume work. The men refused. The switchmen have sent emissaries to every road leading into Chicago to inform other switchmen of the condition of things at the yards, so none of them can be permaded to do any work there. The effect of this was that very little work was accomplished yesterday in the way of clearing the yards, and the prospect for the present is not cheering for the packers.

Asking More Warns.

Asking More Wages.
Cincago, Aug. 27.—The committee representing the Illinois Central railroad employes in the train service, road employes in the train service, which has been preparing a new schedule of wages, called on General Manager Beck at his office yesterday. They were courteously received. They presented their schedule and requested its adoption. What the increase is that they request cannot now be exactly learned, but it ranges from 15 to 30 per cent. The committee were assured that the schedule would be carefully comidered and an answer given them in ten days. The committee expressed themselves satisfied, and the matter will doubtless be settled satisfactory to all.

to axtinguish Fire on Shipboard.

A novel and most effective apparatus for extinguishing fires in ships' holds and for rapidly ventilating the holds in emergencies has been brought out in England. The scientific basis of the invention is the fact of carbonic oxide gas being inimical to combustion. Fire is extinguished in the ship's hold by the apparatus filling it rapidly with fumes extracted from the boiler funnel, and cooled and purified on their way to the hold, vents being left for the expulsion of fresh air contained in the hold. The fumes are injected with such rapidity as to produce an outflow through all vents and crevices in the hold and thus prevent the ingress of fresh air, which would otherwise occur.—New Orleans Pica-

MANY INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT THEIR MINUTE GERMS.

What Bucteria Are and How and Where Is Their Nourishment -- Double Their Numbers Every Hour.

With the name bacteria almost every one is familiar, but little, however, is actually known of them by the average; ance. non professional; hence a brief description of them is likely to be of interest. Bacteria are minute organisms; in fact, they are the smallest of living forms. As one writer has said, they form the boundary has of life; beyond them life does not exit, so far, at least, as our present microscopic expedients reach, and these are not small. The strongest of our magmitting leases, the immersion system of Hartman, give a magnifying power of from three thousand to four thousand diameters, and could we view a man under such a lens, he would appear as large as Mourt Blanc or even Chimborago. But even under this colossal amplification the smallest bacteria do not appear larger than the points and commas of a go al print. These smallest bacteria may be con pared with a man about as a grain of sand to Mount Bianc.

Bacteria assume many forms-there are motionless, and certain kinds never appear to move, but where the conditions are favorable to them those which have motion are excessively lively.

These little living forms are present everywhere the air reaches, but they swarm only where the temperature is favorable and there is plenty of nourishment. When there is decomposition, fermentation or putrefaction they develop in masses. The action of bacteria is seen in the following simple experiment: Put a piece of meat or a piece of any vegetable in a glass of water and let it stand. After a time the water will thicken up more or less, and then become milky. The milkiness is due to the bacteria which fill the water. When patrefaction is ended, and all the organic matter in whatever was put into the water has been consumed by the bacteria then the water clears up and loses entirely the offensive smell which it had. Without nourishment the bacteria are no longer active, nor are they developing as they were while putrefaction was going on. They sink to the bottom of bacteria multiply, many of them can double their numbers every hour when under the best conditions. When they do that then, Professor Law tells us, a single bacterium would in twenty-four hours produce no less than 16,777,220 At the end of forty-eight hours the num ber of offspring would number 281,500, 000,000, and would fill a half pint measure, all produced from a single germ measuring 1-15,000 of an inch. nately, however, bacteria rarely so prop agate themselves; they will meet with all sorts of drawbacks, and thus, in spite of their enormous fertility, the survivors are in general only enough to keep a fair balance in nature." But all bacteria de not multiply as rapidly as this; there are some which multiply very slowly-those which cause tuberculosis, for instance As already stated, bacteria exist everywhere the air reaches; like other living things, oxygen is essential to them Where decaying matter abounds there are they to be found in the greatest numbers. On the tops of the highest moun tains and in mid-ocean they exist, but it is in such places that their number is the nute beings, and almost everything about us teems with them, we naturally ask what influence they have on health. Science has conclusively proved that while many of the different forms of bacteria are practically harmless to men. here are some which seize upon him, and at times destroy him. It is known beyond all reasonable doubt that certain forms of bacteria produce certain discases. Tuberculosis, for instance; there can scarcely be a question but that it is caused by special bacteria, and the most of the physicians of today will say that without these bacteria no tuberculosis; or, in other words, unless that peculiar form of bacteria is present in a lung. there cannot be consumption of it.

Then there is an anthrax, a malignant and fatal disease of certain animals, and identical with wool sorters' and ragpickers' disease; that we know to be caused by bacteria, for the same has been found and its identity established beyond all question.

The inference to be drawn from the foregoing is clear. All bacteria, be they harmless or do they threaten man, al ways swarm in the greatest numbers and multiply with the greatest rapidity where filth abounds; and the more filth the more bacteria. One can never be scot free from bacteria, but he can feel quite free from the harmful sort if he lives in pure air, with good surroundings, practices cleanliness, and has good water to drank and food to eat. course, disease germs may reach him even then, but he will have very little reason to fear them.—Boston Herald.

A professional rat catcher estimates the number of rats in the United States at five for every man, woman and child in the country. For every child born there are twenty-eight rate, and each rat brought to its death costs the people an average of four cents. He says that if every person in the land should set out to hunt rate for a month the number could not be reduced to less than 100,000,-

Japunese Peli

The politeness of the Japanese has long been proverbial. Whoever comes in contact with them anywhere speaks of their gentle manners, and in their own country this trait is much more marked than when one meets them as isolated individuals away from home. An American They Exist.-An Idea of Their Size-Pilth traveler in Japan tells a story bearing upon this point.

This American was from Ohio; he was captain of a gunboat, and though a brave and efficient officer, he was somewhat noted for his sense of his own import-

He had put in at a Japanese port, and with his officers had been most politely received by the Japanese authorities. As the Americans proceeded with their es-cort through the town the young captain was very much pleased to see that every one whom they met bowed profoundly; but what was the soft, three syllabled word that they uttered with this graceful salute? The captain did not understand the Japanese language or Japanese urbanity. He did not know that it was the custom of the people whenever they passed n stranger to salute him with an inclination of the head. Nor did he know that the Japanese "How do you do?" or "How are you?" is contained in one word. "Ohaye," the pronunciation being, as nearly as possible, O-y-yo.

Presently one of these polite Japanes townspeople happened to speak londer than the others, and our captain received, as he thought, a sudden illumination. With a finsh of gratification h turned to one of his officers and whis pered: "How in the world did they happen to know that I came from Ohio? Youth's Companion.

Antiquity of Sheemaking. The first sole protector or rudimentary shoe was the sandal, which consisted of a sole of some kind of skip or of wood. held in place by straps and thongs. In all countries, ancient and modern, which have laid any claims to even the rudest kind of civilization, some kind of a covering or protector for the feet has been recognized as a part and parcel of the wearing apparel. The thong fastened sandals of the Greeks and Egyptians were the shoes of Holy Writ. In Egypt the materials used by the shoemaker were strips of the papyrus, the paper reed of the Nile. Woven strips of papyrus made a light and durable foot cover

As seen by paintings on the walls of Thebes, shoemaking formed a distinct branch of trade in the time of the reign of Thothmes III, about 1,495 years before Christ, or about the time of the flight of the Israelites. Foot coverings of the Romans were both the highly ornamented sandal and the boot reaching to or above the knee.—St. Louis Republic.

Servants' Wages in England.

A butler seldom gets more than $20 : month, and a cook must be a good one to get $15. A laundress gets $10 to $12.50, and a very good one $15 a month. A footman may get $12.50, but the price runs from $8 upward, and housemaids can be had in shoals at $5 to $10 a month and excellent servants they are. Kitcher maids at first get but little, sometimes $2 or $3 a month, but they rise gradually until they become cooks. Coachmen get about the same as butlers and grooms and helpers the same as footmen.

The head gardener will get about $350 to $500 a year and a house, and under gardeners about $3 to $5 a week and a certain amount of vegetables and fruit in season. The household servants always receive washing expenses. These vary according to the grade of the servant. A butler will get $8.50 a month and a lower servant only $1.50, a house keeper $3 and a lower maid as little as $1.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Murder Will Out.

During a thunder storm a large oak tree in the Masonic graveyard of Salem. Va., was struck by lightning and rent from top to bottom. While looking at the ruin the next morning Matthew Turner, who has charge of the cemetery, spied an object which had fallen from the cloven trunk. Picking it up and cut ting away the mass of moss, fungus and earth with which it was crusted over, he found that it was a large, old fashioned teapot of solid silver. Opening it, he discovered that it contained the skull of an infant a few days old, and further investigation showed the teapot to bear an inscription: "From D. T. to R. L., 1823."-Chicago Herald.

A Land of Peaches.

In the neighborhood of Sydney such fruits as the peach, nectarine, apricot, plum, fig. grape, cherry and orange are as plentiful as blackberries. Individual Efforts.

The following shows what a single individual can do for a charitable institution by dint of hard work. A director of one of the largest hospitals of New York city secured, during the past five years, 667 new members, which added $6.670 to the annual income. He also induced 153 members who were paving $10 a year to become patrons at $25 a year, thus increasing the yearly incom-$2,295, and he furthermore procured ninety new patrons at $25 per annum, equal $2,250. The grand total of increase of revenue was thus $11.215-truly a good showing for one man's energy, the more so as the field was not a fresh one, it having been gone over by a number of solicitors for a good many years before he began to put in his work. -- Epoch.

Brazilian Hammocks

The passenger capacity of the vessels on the Amazon river is not limited by the number of berths or state rooms, which are seldom or never used except by the few foreign travelers to dress in. but by the limit of hanging room for hammocks on the deck of the vessel. Everybody of necessity must have a hammock, as the state rooms are unbear able at night. Even in the hotels harnmocks are more used than the beds. Some of them are very fine. Those made of maqueira grass, with feather lace trimmings, are considered the best. It takes from several months to a year to make really good ones, and they bring anywhere from $100 to $500 each .- New York Ledger.

A minister who enjoys a laugh as well as any one says that he was once invited to take tea with the family of a new parishioner.

Among the members of the household were a quiet little lad of 4 or 5 years and a middle aged, unmarried lady, whom the rest of the family addressed as "Aunt Mattie."

Just before supper was announced the little boy came into the parlor and said, in a shrill whisper, heard by all present: "Aunt Ma-a-ttie, ma says she's goin' to set you by the pre-e-e-cher. Ain't that a good joke on you?"—Youth's Companion.

Frightened Off by a Parrot

A burglar, while ransacking a house in Chicago, was greeted with a "Hello there!" in a sepulchral voice from the gloom of a recessed corner. He stood not upon the order of his going, but went at once. A pet parrot had worked in its sole stock of English with admirable re sults. The burgiar dropped a purloined overcoat in his haste to get away, but he subsequently recovered from his scare sufficiently to enter two other houses where he secured several overcoats and $40 in money.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Did this innocent editor blanch with surprise and wonderment and collapse at the sight of more money than he ever expected to see? Well, no; not much. With much unconcern as if it were an every day occurrence, he took the $10,000 bill, and pulling out an old wallet from his pistol pocket, proceeded to count out to the banker his change. It was the banker's time to wilt, as he did not want to part with the big bill, which was a curiosity in Van Wert; but the editor said it was no trouble at all, as he was saving up a few of those $10,000 bills for Christmas The banker had gathered a few of his choice friends in the bank to see him toy with the editor, but another banker had got on to it, and padded the editor with a huge bundle of greenbacks to -Miss Cora Jacobs left today for a make change.
